

Christening Bonnet from Nås, Dalarna

LYST'S VERSION MADE AFTER CUSTOMERS WISH

Lyst often take inspiration from the treasure of the folk art. It contains careful handcrafted and lovely designs. To have this as an outgoing point is a joy, and it was stimulated from a customer who wanted to have a christening bonnet of beauty and traditional connection

The origin, a christening bonnet from Nås, Dalarna. It is made of red wool, blue patterned silk and a lace at front edge.

A lace of silver adds a final elegance.

Lysts version in red linen, blue linen in pleats and poor man's lace at front edge. The order included a silver lace.

(The silver lace is not included in the model Lyst offers after asking.)

The christening child himself, little lovely Magnus, handsome and happy in the bonnet he is to be wearing to the gown Poor man's lace.
